CGI Clinton Global Initiative University Network was founded in 2001 as the William J. Clinton Presidential Foundation, and renamed in 2013 as the Bill, Hillary & Chelsea Clinton Foundation is a nonprofit organization under section 501(c) of the U.S. tax code with offices located in New York City and at Little Rock in the State of Arkansas.

Through 2016, the foundation had raised an estimated $2 billion from U.S. corporations, foreign governments and corporations, political donors, and various other groups and individuals. The acceptance of funds from wealthy donors has been a source of controversy. The foundation "has won accolades from philanthropy experts and has drawn bipartisan support". Charitable grants are not a major focus of the Clinton Foundation, which instead uses most of its money to carry out its own humanitarian programs.

Clinton Global Initiative University — Founded by President Bill Clinton in 2007, CGI University is a community of students who are taking action together on pressing challenges facing their campuses, communities, and the world. Through the Clinton Global Initiative's power of convening and Commitment to Action model, more than 12,500 students have made an impact in over 160 countries and all 50 states - with the support of more than $4.8 million in funding from CGI University's corporate and university partners. Now in its 18th year, CGI University's year-round program engages students, alumni, colleges and universities, and influential voices in creating new ways to effect change on the topics that matter most to emerging leaders.
